Experience the City

'The time has come for Lonely Planet to let one of its worst-kept secrets out: Glasgow's got everything. Forget castles, kilts, bagpipes and tartan. You come for the cocktails, cuisine and designer chic (plus the legendary native wit).'

Experience the City

It's impossible not to be impressed by the social and cultural choice available in Glasgow.

The city offers

- fantastic shopping in a city named the best place to shop outside London's West End for the last four years running
- a legendary live music scene
- 14 museums displaying some of Europe's richest collections, many for free
- a network of 27 sports centres, as well as three international football stadia
- a thriving collection of artists and galleries, including major collections by the city's most famous architect Charles Rennie Mackintosh
- around 700 pubs, bars and nightclubs
- churches, mosques, temples and synagogues within easy reach
- 15 theatres and concert venues spanning innovative new work as well as traditional favourites
- countless local, national and international festivals celebrating everything from folk music and live art to food and film.
