

Call for applications for new positions in the EANO Educational Committee 2024-2026

Dear EANO Members,

EANO is THE Association for Neuro-Oncology in Europe and has launched several committees where your support and input as experts in the field of Neuro-Oncology is highly appreciated.

The Educational Committee concentrates on supporting EANO's educational activities with a focus on the joint development of a structured Neuro-Oncology education in Europe. Key activities are the Educational program that is part of the Annual Meeting, the EANO School of Neuro-Oncology as well as the EANO Seminars. Furthermore, the committee assists with the interaction with other societies with a focus on joint educational activities and supports the development of Neuro-Oncology outside Europe. The Educational Committee is a very active committee with a series of new projects to be implemented in the years to come.

The EANO is looking for active new members, that will start their engagement after the EANO Meeting in Glasgow 2024. The Educational Committee is composed of representatives of different subspecialties with a balance regarding European countries and gender. The duration of the position is 2 years, with the possibility of one re-election, depending on the input of the member.

Applicants must be members of EANO (i.e. paid-up members) with residency in a European country.

Applications for the Executive Board at the same time are not possible; applications for another EANO Committee are possible by indicating primary and secondary choices. Former Executive Board members are very welcome to apply!

The election procedure will be as follows:

1. Interested candidates should send a letter of application to the EANO Board explaining their motivation and a standard CV (up to 3 pages) to the EANO Office e-mail address (office@eano.eu). The deadline for submission is June 9th, 2024.
2. The EANO Executive Board will review all the applications in June, taking into account the CVs, geographic representation and specialty to ensure the Educational Committee has a broad representation.
3. During the General Assembly at the EANO Meeting in Glasgow, the Executive Board will present the approved candidates.

Yours sincerely,
Susan Short
President, EANO
