Call for application for open position EANO Executive Board 2020-2022

Dear EANO Members

EANO is THE Association for Neuro-Oncology in Europe and has launched several committees where your support and input as experts in the field of Neuro-oncology is highly appreciated.

The EANO Executive Board invites applications to be part of the new Board which starts after the Meeting in Glasgow 2020. The Executive Board is composed of representatives of different specialities and each member has specific tasks and competencies. The duration of the position is 2 years, with the possibility of one re-election. Boardmembership allows you to take part in the development of our field, EANO and its many activities

Any specialist may apply as there are no fixed positions for the different disciplines.

Applicants must be members of EANO (i.e. paid-up members) with residency in a European country. Applicants should be active in Neuro-Oncology, used to interdisciplinary and multi-professional teamwork, education and should be interested in a prosperous future for EANO. We expect Board Members to participate in teleconferences and face-to-face meetings and actively support EANO projects.

The election procedure will be as follows:

1. The interested candidates should send to the EANO Board a letter of application explaining their motivations and a standard CV (up to 3 pages) to the EANO Office at: office@eano.eu. The deadline for submission is June 1, 2020.
2. By the middle of July, the Nomination Committee of EANO (which is composed of the President, President-Elect and the last 3 Past Presidents) will review all the applications. They will take into account the track record, the geographic representation and specialty of the applicants to ensure the Executive Board has a broad representation.
3. At the General Assembly during the EANO Meeting in Glasgow, the candidates approved by the Nomination Committee will be presented. If there are two or more similarly qualified nominees for a vacant position, the election will be held by a simple majority of votes during the General Assembly.
4. The announcement and introduction of elected members will take place at the end of the General Assembly.

The EANO Board invites all EANO members to apply!. EANO needs active members to further advance our field!

Sincerely
Martin van den Bent
President, EANO

Call for applications for new positions in the EANO Scientific Committee 2020-2022

Dear EANO Members

EANO is THE Association for Neuro-Oncology in Europe and has launched several committees where your support and input as experts in the field of Neuro-oncology is highly appreciated.

The Scientific Committee is currently chaired by Michael Platten and concentrates its activities on designing the Scientific Program of the annual EANO Congresses (selection of oral and poster presentations, invited lectures, etc) and other EANO events (or EANO supported events run by other organizations). Furthermore, together with the Board Member(s) input for the Website and the WFNOS website (advices, review articles, news) and any other scientific matter of EANO needing specific expertise (reviewing of grants and fellowships applications, projects) as well as reviewing abstracts for the conference are tasks of the Scientific Committee.

The EANO is looking for active new members, that will start their engagement after the EANO Meeting in Glasgow 2020. The Scientific Committee is composed of representatives of different subspecialties with balance regarding European countries and gender. The duration of the position is 2 years, with the possibility of one re-election, depending on the input of the member.

The following positions are now open for election:

- Medical oncology
- Neurosurgery
- Radiation oncology
- Paediatric neuro-oncology
- Neurology.
- Neuro-imaging/ Nuclear medicine
- Neuropathology
- Nursing/psychology
- Neurosurgery
- Basic Science/epidemiology/research

Applicants must be members of EANO (i.e. paid-up members) with residency in a European country.

Applications for the Executive Board at the same time are not possible; applications for another EANO Committee is possible by indicating primary and secondary choices, also former Executive Board members are very welcome to apply!

The election procedure will be as follows:

1. Interested candidates should send a letter of application to the EANO Executive Board explaining their motivation and a standard CV (up to 3 pages) to the EANO Office e-mail address (office@eano.eu). The deadline for submission is June 1, 2020.
2. The EANO Executive Board as well the Committee Chair, Michael Platten, will review all the applications in June/July, taking into account the CVs, the geographic representation and specialty to ensure the Scientific Committee has a broad representation.
3. At the General Assembly during the EANO Meeting in Glasgow, the Executive Board will present the approved candidates.

Yours sincerely,
Martin van den Bent,
President, EANO

Call for applications for new positions in the EANO Educational Committee 2020-2022

Dear EANO Members

EANO is THE Association for Neuro-Oncology in Europe and has launched several committees where your support and input as experts in the field of Neuro-oncology is highly appreciated.

The Educational Committee is currently chaired by Riccardo Soffietti and concentrates its activities on the support of educational activities of EANO with focus on joint development of a structured Neuro-oncology education in Europe. Key activities are the educational program that is part of the Annual meeting and the Winter School program for young neuro-oncologists. Furthermore, the committee assists in the interaction with other societies within the focus of joint educational activities and supports the development of Neuro-oncology outside Europe.

The EANO is looking for active new members, that will start their engagement after the EANO Meeting in Glasgow 2020. The Educational Committee is composed of representatives of different subspecialties with balance regarding European countries and gender. The duration of the position is 2 years, with the possibility of one re-election, depending on the input of the member.

Applicants must be members of EANO (i.e. paid-up members) with residency in a European country.

Applications for the Executive Board at the same time are not possible; applications for another EANO Committee is possible by indicating primary and secondary choices, also former Executive Board members are very welcome to apply!

The election procedure will be as follows:

1. Interested candidates should send a letter of application to the EANO Executive Board explaining their motivation and a standard CV (up to 3 pages) to the EANO Office e-mail address (office@eano.eu). The deadline for submission is June 1, 2020.
2. The EANO Executive Board as well the Committee Chair, Riccardo Soffietti, will review all the applications in June/July, taking into account the CVs, the geographic representation and specialty to ensure the Educational Committee has a broad representation.
3. At the General Assembly during the EANO Meeting in Glasgow, the Executive Board will present the approved candidates.

Yours sincerely
Martin van den Bent
President, EANO

Call for the EANO Youngsters Committee

The EANO Youngsters Initiative aims to provide a platform for networking, interaction and collaboration between young scientists/clinicians with a special interest in Neuro-Oncology. Several activities like the EANO Youngsters Track during the annual Meeting, the Networking Event and our Facebook Group specially focusing on young EANO members were already initiated by the current EANO Youngsters Committee. Importantly, the EANO Youngsters committee aims to represent the diversity of EANO with a lot of different specialties involved in Neuro-Oncology as well as to represent the different scientific interest from a clinical as well as a translational and basic science viewpoint.

To further broaden the projects of the EANO Youngsters Committee we are looking for new motivated members with new ideas for projects, initiatives and actions to improve networking, interactions and collaborations between young scientists with a special interest in Neuro-Oncology. EANO Youngsters Committee does not focus on scientific projects, but aims to increase the involvement of young members in the EANO society.

If you have an idea for the EANO Youngsters Committee, you are under 35 years old and want to join the EANO Youngster Committee send your proposal along with a short motivation letter and CV to youngsters@eano.eu.
