Dear EANO members, colleagues and friends,

Welcome to the 21st Meeting of the European Association of Neuro-Oncology (EANO 2026) in Rome, Italy. The meeting will start with an Educational Day on Thursday, September 24 and the main program will commence on Friday, September 25.

The unique interdisciplinary setting of the EANO annual meeting will cover basic, translational and clinical sciences across disciplines to bridge critical gaps in our understanding and management of central nervous system tumors. During the congress, speakers from across the globe will present the latest clinical trial outcomes, highlight key innovations in neuro-oncology as well as advances in basic and translational science and will discuss how to promote patient care. Key themes of the 2026 meeting will include advanced therapeutic approaches, novel treatment targets, artificial intelligence and data sharing, as well as quality of life and supportive care. With multiple sessions organized jointly with sister societies, there is a strong emphasis on international and interdisciplinary collaboration.

Enjoy the chance to catch up with friends and colleagues, interact with our valued industry partners in the exhibition area and by attending their symposia and make the Rome meeting an unforgettable memory!
