

Call for applications for new positions in the EANO Scientific Committee 2026-2028

Dear EANO Members,

EANO is THE Association for Neuro-Oncology in Europe and has launched several committees where your support and input as experts in the field of Neuro-Oncology are highly appreciated.

The EANO is looking for active new members who will start their engagement after the EANO Meeting in Rome 2026. The Scientific Committee is composed of representatives of different subspecialties with balance regarding European countries and gender. The duration of the position is 2 years, with the possibility of one re-election, depending on the input and commitment of the member as judged by the Chair of the committee and the Executive Board.

Applicants must be members of EANO (i.e. paid-up members) with residency in a European country. Applications for the Executive Board at the same time are not possible; applications for another EANO Committee are possible by indicating primary and secondary choices, also former Executive Board members are very welcome to apply.

The following specialties which are required on the Scientific Committee are open for applications:

- Neurosurgery
- Translational research (particular with a specific focus on genomics/ bioinformatics/ big data/ AI)
- Basic Research
- Neuroimaging/Nuclear Medicine
- Neurology
- Radiotherapy
- Neuropathology
- Pediatric Oncologist

In addition, we welcome applications from candidates with other specialties to ensure a broad representation on the committee.

The main tasks of the Scientific Committee consist of creating the Scientific Program of the EANO Meetings (suggestion of topic, speakers, abstract reviewing, selection of oral and poster presentations etc.) and other EANO events (or EANO-supported events run by other organizations), together with the Board Member in charge of the Meeting. Scientific Committee members can also be asked to help with input for the Website, Newsletter and/or Social Media Channels; and are the designated experts for any other scientific matter for EANO when needing specific expertise (reviewing of grants and fellowships applications, projects).

The election procedure will be as follows:

1. Interested candidates should apply via EventsAir with a letter of motivation and CV. The deadline for submission is May 28, 2026.
2. The Scientific Committee and EANO Executive Board will review all the applications by mid-July, taking into account the CVs, geographic representation, and speciality to ensure the Disparity Committee has a broad representation.
3. At the General Assembly during the EANO Meeting in Rome, the approved candidates will be presented.

We are looking forward to receiving your application!

Yours sincerely,
Giuseppe Minniti
Chair EANO Scientific Committee
